

Daniel H. Glasser
Partner

"I'm like Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. I'm the most contemplative, thoughtful lawyer you'll meet and I try everything to stay out of litigation. I try creative solutions no one's thought of. If, despite all reasonable efforts, we still can't settle and have to go to court, then I drink the sauce and get aggressive."

Partner Daniel H. Glasser adroitly handles complex family law issues such as business valuation, tax, equitable distribution, custody and cases involving multiple expert witnesses.

Skilled Negotiator and Tenacious Litigator

During his decorated legal career, Dan has negotiated and litigated hundreds of divorce, support and custody matters as well as drafted legal briefs and appeared before the state appellate courts on numerous occasions. He is actively sought out by the legal industry as a leader in the domestic relations area of family law and is regarded as a skillfully nimble attorney for cases involving:

- Equitable distribution
- Complex business valuation
- Multiple expert witnesses
- Child custody

Industry Authority

Dan has authored and co-authored publications and seminar materials on domestic relations law, ethics, evidence and tax law and has been a featured speaker at various seminars and continuing legal education programs across the country.

He has served on committees for the Allegheny County and Pennsylvania bar associations including terms as a council member. Previously, he was a co-chair of the ACBA Legislative and PBA Programs committees.
