

Jennifer Zofcin
Senior Associate

"My clients need and deserve solid, aggressive representation, and I provide that. However, the most fulfilling part of my practice is taking a new client faced with problems, which they feel are insurmountable, and walking them through to the end of the case. I take great satisfaction in seeing my clients' renewed strength and refreshed view of the future once we have completed the process."

Jennifer Zofcin is a senior associate attorney with a practice focused on divorce, equitable distribution, support, custody matters and adoption cases.

Client-Oriented Approach

Jennifer believes in allowing clients to play an important role in making decisions and in determining the extensiveness of their litigation. Resolution through negotiation is always a central focus. However, when litigation is the best course, Jennifer relies on her vast experience in multiday trials in Allegheny County and the surrounding Pittsburgh area.

Pursuing Progress

Jennifer is an active member of the legal community, contributing with a keen sense of responsibility to the betterment of the industry. She is a long-time participant and former co-chair of the Allegheny County Bar Association Family Law Section Program Committee, in which she plans and presents continuing legal education programs for family law attorneys and judges. She has acted as a case note author for Pennsylvania Family Lawyer, a case note contributor for the Allegheny County Bar Association and has presented lectures on various family law topics.
