

Candice L. Komar

Partner

"Often clients come in, we talk through their case, and afterward they say that no one else has explained it to them as clearly as I have. I derive great satisfaction in taking the fear out of an emotional and complicated situation by imparting the client with knowledge and concrete analysis."

As a founding member of Pollock Begg, Candice L. Komar's legal career spans more than two decades as a prominent practitioner and sought-after speaker.

Innovative Approach to Family Law

Candice has established herself as a leader in collaborative law as well as a formidable opponent in the courtroom by leveraging her affinity for business and her understanding of the sensitivity surrounding family law. A certified mediator, who is also a fierce courtroom litigator, Candice excels at divorces involving valuation of closely held businesses, complex custody and child support litigation and custody relocation. Candice's legal experience is complemented by a constellation therapy certification, providing her a deeper understanding of her clients' motivations. With her unique perspective, she crafts legal strategies leveraging the interests of both parties.

Strong Legal Voice

Candice is regularly called upon by media to discuss topical, cutting-edge legal issues such as high-conflict custody cases, domestic abuse, collaborative law and alimony and child support issues. Her candid, hard-hitting and unbiased opinion garners her national speaking engagements and network television interviews. Both Pennsylvania Super Lawyers and Pittsburgh Magazine have featured Candice's pioneering work in collaborative law, making her an in-demand speaker and lecturer on negotiation and conflict resolution.
