

A prominent practitioner and a sought-after speaker, Candice L. Komar is known for trailblazing collaborative work and dedication to improving the practice of family law.

Innovative Approach to Family Law

Candice has established herself as a leader in collaborative law as well as a formidable opponent in the courtroom by leveraging her affinity for business and her understanding of the sensitivity surrounding family law. A certified mediator, who is also a fierce courtroom litigator, Candice excels at divorces involving valuation of closely held businesses, complex custody and child support litigation and custody relocation. Candice's legal experience is complemented by a constellation therapy certification, providing her a deeper understanding of her clients' motivations. With her unique perspective, she crafts legal strategies leveraging the interests of both parties.

Strong Legal Voice

Candice is regularly called upon by media to discuss topical, cutting-edge legal issues such as high-conflict custody cases, domestic abuse, collaborative law and alimony and child support issues. Her candid, hard-hitting and unbiased opinion garners her national speaking engagements and network television interviews. Candice's pioneering work in collaborative law makes her an in-demand speaker and lecturer on negotiation and conflict resolution.
