

Candice L. Komar

Partner

"Often clients come in, we talk through their case, and afterward they say that no one else has explained it to them as clearly as I have. I derive great satisfaction in taking the fear out of an emotional and complicated situation by imparting the client with knowledge and concrete analysis."

A prominent practitioner and a sought-after speaker, Candice L. Komar is known for trailblazing collaborative work and dedication to improving the practice of family law.

Innovative Approach to Family Law

With over 40 years of experience, Candice has earned a reputation as a formidable courtroom advocate and a skilled problem solver. Her unique ability to understand multiple perspectives allows her to craft innovative solutions that meet the needs of all stakeholders. Candice is particularly passionate about working with business owners and entrepreneurs in their divorce valuation, litigation and support matters. Her dedication to finding creative resolutions to her cases sets her apart in the field.

Strong Legal Voice

Candice is regularly called upon by media to discuss various topical legal issues which impact family law, including those highlighted by celebrity divorces in the news. Her candid, hard-hitting and unbiased opinion garners her national speaking engagements and network television interviews. Candice's pioneering work in collaborative law and general interest in alternative dispute resolution make her an in-demand speaker and lecturer on negotiation and conflict resolution.
